CARNIVAL GLASS FOREVER

AUGUST 2022

From left: Northwood Wild Strawberry ruffled bowl in Purple, Cambridge Inverted Strawberry 9 3/4" Pitcher in Amethyst, and Northwood Stippled Strawberry ruffled bowl in Purple.

Upcoming Club Meeting
Sunday, August 7th 10:00 a.m.

American Legion Hall—Gardner, Massachusetts

Theme: Patterns that remind you of beach/summer vacations and new finds

Greetings members,

I cannot believe that it is already the middle of summer. Sun, tans, humidity, blueberries, fireworks and picnics—oh yeah!

Since the last club meeting, Gary and I have attended The ACGA and ICGA conventions with auctions and a non-convention auction. There really is some nice Carnival Glass out there being sold, and hearing that great collections will be up for auction in 2023. We were fortunate to have had winning bids on a few pieces to enhance our collection. Of course many slipped away from our bidding card due to strong prices.

We just returned from ICGA in Earth City, Missouri for the first part of the late Don Clark collection. Don was quite a character. Some have said you either liked him or not. For those that didn't, they really didn't get to know him. He was theatrically entertaining during an auction or around a large group of people, but when you were with him by himself he was a kind soul. His love for animals was unwavering. I can honestly say he had an eye for super Carnival Glass. Gary and I had the opportunity to have met Don and got to know him a little bit. I will miss his humor and the way that I laughed until my sides hurt. Don always wore very colorful shirts when he attended conventions. As a tribute to Don, many auction attendees wore colorful shirts emulating his style. Minutes before the auction began, everyone that had on a shirt was asked to gather to have a picture taken. What an impactful moment for those to honor Don and to remember him.

What also was great to see was the return of the auction crowd with over 100 people in the audience. There many familiar faces as well as a few new ones. Friendships and fellowships of Carnival Glass continue on and will not be stopped.

Our convention is coming up quickly. If you have made your hotel reservations—super. If not, you can make your reservations up to August 18th to secure the negotiated rate of $109. After the 18th, the price will be whatever the hotel charges normally and the room block released. Don't procrastinate. There is much interest with people that I have spoken with at other conventions. We should have a very good turnout.

In closing, I wish nothing but the best for NECGA member and my good friend, Chase Marquis, as he moves from Maine to South Carolina at the beginning of August as he starts a new exciting chapter in his life. Chase said that he will still be active in the club and will be attending our conventions. I will hold him to that!!

Best regards,

Steve

From: Sunday, April 10th meeting.

Gary brought up to the club that with this years convention being a draw to non-members in regards to the Loescher Collection that there would be a chance that food and beverage be taken advantage of. He also reminded the club that there has not been a registration fee in the past. Gary proposed that there be a $10 per person registration for non-members to assist with the purchase of pizza, beverages and Saturday grinders. John Rowe made a motion that a $15 per non-member household registration fee that would include 1 year membership with emailed bulletin. If the registrant wanted a printed copy, it would be a $3 add-on. Also noted is if a member has already paid their 2022 dues they are automatically registered. Sue Menard seconded the motion. All were in favor. Steve will update the registration form on the website to reflect the modification.
3. Vickie made a motion to adjourn the meeting and was seconded by Dave Noyes. All were in favor. Our Meeting adjourned at 11:42 a.m

Next Meeting: Sunday, August 7 at 10 a.m.

Location: American Legion Hall, Gardner, Massachusetts

Theme: Patterns that remind you of the beach or summer vacation and new finds

Convention considerations:

- 1. Donate an item(s) for the club's fundraising auction during the banquet. It can be anything, not just Carnival Glass.
- 2. Have a room display by creating your own theme. What a fun way to showcase some of your glass for others to see.

Inverted Strawberry was made by the Cambridge Glass Company. The “Inverted” part of the pattern name came from the fact that the pattern is pressed into the glass rather than raised as are most carnival glass patterns. Most pieces in this pattern are considered scarce to rare.

Cambridge is perhaps better known for their fine crystal and non-iridized glassware. Originally they used a “C” in a triangle as their trademark, but in 1906 they adopted “Near Cut.” Many, but not not all, of their carnival glass pieces contain this mark. The company was the second one to make carnival glass and went out of business in 1959.

Principle colors made were amethyst, green and marigold with green being somewhat scarce. Blue is probably the least often seen color. No pastel colors are known.

Water Sets. Sets are known in amethyst and marigold and are considered scarce.

Tumblers have also been reported in green and an especially rare blue.

Tumblers have been reproduced but do have the makers marks, so there should be no confusion. Milk pitchers, like that shown on the right, are reported only in amethyst with fewer than 10 known.

Celery vase and whimsy bonbon. Both unusual pieces; the celery is one of just a couple known in green; a couple are also known in blue. The green bonbon whimsy is the only one so far reported.

Table Sets. Table sets contain the usual four pieces: a covered butter dish, a covered sugar, a creamer, and a spooner. They are known in amethyst and marigold and any would be considered scarce. In 1983 an antique publication reported a blue set, but none have been confirmed.

Breakfast sets. These consist of a creamer and sugar with no lid, both being stemmed pieces. They are considered quite rare and found in blue.

Compotes. There are three different sizes of compotes, the giant, tall, and jelly. The giant (shown above) was made in amethyst, blue, green, and marigold—and none of the colors are seen very often. The tall compote, 6" high, are very rare and only marigold is known. One of these compotes is known with a ruffled top. The jelly compote (like that shown at the left) is 3 1/2" tall and known only in blue. It is rare.

Spittoons and spittoon shapes. The large bowl above was probably made from the large berry bowl. Whether it can be considered a spittoon or not is at question. It does cup in and then flare out as a spittoon must, but whether it was intended to be a spittoon remains a mystery. This one is amethyst. At the left is a small ladies spittoon, found in sufficient quantities in both marigold and green to suggest that it was a production item, not a whimsey.

Bowls. These are usually found in 7" or 10" round or slightly cupped in pieces. They will come in the usual amethyst, green, and marigold. Amethyst bowls are probably the most difficult to find. Because the pattern is only on the exterior, bowls are perceived as not being as desirable as other shapes. Ruffled bowls would be an unusual find. The sauce measures 5" across and is blue. Note the Near Cut mark in the bottom.

Berry Sets. These sets can be found in amethyst, green and marigold. A complete set is seldom seen in any of the colors.

Candlesticks. These are 7" tall and are found in green and marigold. They're considered scarce to rare in either color.

Powder Jar. This is the only piece made that would be considered part of a dresser set. It is found in marigold and green.
